‘MAKING TRACKS’
has arrived at Chester Cathedral

This long awaited model railway exhibition has arrived at Chester Cathedral, opening 16 July 2021, along with a fabulous display of vintage inspired railway posters.

Originally planned for 2020, Pete Waterman and his team have worked tirelessly to put together this 75’ long layout of Thomas Brassey’s West Coast Main Line, commemorating the 150th Anniversary of Brassey’s death in 1870.

The Thomas Brassey Society will have a stand there and talk to the visitors about Thomas and his great achievements all over the world.

TB Committee members

The Chairman tries his hand at building the arched bridge

The Exhibition runs from 16 July — 3 September so don’t miss it.

Get your tickets and book your time slot on the link below
https://chestercathedral.com/event/making-tracks/